

Answer :

- Our government opened new schools so that they could encourage more children to attend school
- They use the media for sensitising people to the advantages of literacy
They make a great effort so as to reduce illiteracy rates
- Radio and television are also used in order to reach people every where in the country
- Adults go to literacy classes for learning how to read and write
Our government make a great effort they want illiterate people to learn read and write